About

- I grew up in the CSRA area, so I always knew about USCA, but I never thought I would go there. During my senior year of high school, I wasn't quite ready to leave home, and I didn't think I needed to go away to get the "full college experience." Ever since my first day of college, I decided that I was not going to live in regret. I've been given one life, and I want to live it to the fullest. When I see an opportunity, I try to take it because I'll never grow by standing still. Getting involved has created such an impact in my life. I've gained true friends who make me feel heard and supported. Being involved on campus has allowed me to grow in ways I never thought possible. I've learned to get comfortable with the uncomfortable, and each day I want to be a little bit better than the day before.
